

Soprano

to Windsong
Three Leaves on the Wind
I. A New Day

Words by BARBARA KUPFERBERG

Music by DAVID RUBENSTEIN
(ASCAP)

Andante (♩ = 70)

2 f

Words do not a fort ress make, Nor sounds a per fect par - a - dise, But

7

like a pa per weight can seem, A small world, self con tained, con cise, That we can en ter when we choose, Life gives us the tools that we can use. We can use, when we choose.

12 mp p 6

23 mf

Some time too ma - ny _ trials a - rise, The trails of chance oft hold us back, The woods so wild, the 28 2 ff

way so black, That we _ must close our eyes a - while, A - llow ing dreams to 34 mf f

spin the dial. _ Spin the dial, for a while. In the end, the muse brings 40

peace, A small per fec tion in the hand, A sound so pure, it brings a tear A word so placed; no more to say, Brings dawn - ing of a bet - ter day. Brings

45

49 rall. 2

dawn ing of a bet ter day, bet ter day, a bet ter day!